Online Communication and Social Media Consent Form

Communication and interaction through technology has become increasingly popular in education and an important element of teaching and learning. In response to this Regina Catholic Schools has implemented Administrative Applications that direct the use of electronic personal information as it applies to student learning.

In Regina Catholic Schools we utilize open and public social media, open and public digital learning platforms, and closed and private digital learning platforms as part of our instructional program. Within each of these digital platforms there are terms of use that include age requirements that must be followed when online communication or social media is used in the school division.

Open and public social media and open and public digital learning platforms may include but are not limited to, texting, Twitter, and posting on websites, blogs, and other social media.

Closed and private digital platforms, like Office 365, where students and staff have individual accounts, allow for sharing of educational information between teachers and students.

A requirement of these new Administrative Applications is the collection of parent/guardian informed consent for use of online communication and social media.

Consent	Description	Yes	No
Open Social Media	Occasionally, as part of the learning process and information sharing school division staff may wish to share student images, names and school information in open social media (Twitter or others). I provide consent for the use of my child's likeness and information in open social media.
Open and Public Digital Learning Platforms	Occasionally, as part of the learning process, teachers may wish to share evidence of student learning in open and public digital learning platforms (webpage or blog). I provide consent for my child to share their learning in an open online environment.
