

Principal's Report

March 2018

- Basketball playoffs in session now, postponed about a week due to the recent snowstorm and inability to complete playoff games.
- Battle of the Books also postponed, and will occur tomorrow for city championships.
- St. Josaphat had an incredibly successful In-Motion Day at the school level. There were a lot of smiles to be had, and students had exemplary behavior for the whole day. A special thank you to the many staff who were involved in planning and running the day.
- We had a Canadian author in last week, Marsha Skrypuch who ran creative writing session for grade 7&8 students also; a very good experience for all who were able to partake.
- Weekly Lenten liturgies have been occurring with the school body, helping us prepare for the most important season in our Catholic faith.
- Food Bank Fridays to help with our Lenten offerings have also been going well and seem well-supported by the student (and in extension parent) body – thank you for your support.
- Science Fair in the gym all day tomorrow.
- As Synrevoiced, as special thank you to the CSCC for the Staff Appreciation Items that were provided.
- There will be a meeting for interested parents on the current status of Assessment & Reporting on March 28 from 6-7 PM in the St. Josaphat Library.
