

Catholic School Community Councils

Regina Catholic Schools supports the roles of parents as the primary educators of their children. Catholic Schools are an extension of the families that they serve. Parents are encouraged to participate in their local CSCC - Catholic School Community Council. Opportunities exist for parents to become involved in schools in a number of ways. Each school in our Division has a CSCC - Catholic School Community Council. Members are elected or appointed and represent parents, staff, students, parish, and the community. The CSCC has an important role to play in understanding, supporting, and promoting the school's plans for continuous improvement. In addition, CSCCs dialogue with the Board and are the official parent voice within their community. Over the past 100 years we have enjoyed a very special relationship with our parent community. We are "one body in Christ".

Privacy Information:

The Regina Catholic School Division respects the rights and privacy of personal information that is gathered by the school about students and their families. We are committed to protecting those rights and have put controls in place to restrict access to only those people who need the information to do their job.
